

DR. CHRISTIANO EIRALE

SESSION: SYMPOSIUM 2 (DAY 1: 1510 – 1535)

TOPIC: RETURN-TO-PLAY AFTER COVID-19 INFECTION

- 2001: MD, University of Pavia, Italy
- 2005: Sport Medicine Specialist, University of Pavia, Italy

Dr. Cristiano Eirale is an Italian doctor trained in Sports Medicine, with an emphasis on football medicine. He completed his medical training at the University of Pavia in 2001, where he specialized in sports medicine in 2005. From 2004 – 2006, he was the first team doctor of the "FC Internazionale Milano" for two years, and from 2007 to 2012 the Medical Director of the Qatar National Football Team. He worked as a sports medicine specialist at Aspetar Orthopedics and Sports Medicine Hospital in Doha, Qatar since its opening in 2007 until 2018. Currently, he is the Medical Coordinator of Paris Saint Germain Football Club, including the female teams. He has published on football injuries, particularly on their epidemiology (how often injuries occur in different athlete groups and why).