

Jose Raul Canlas
January 17, 2018

Curriculum Vitae

Dr Jose Raul Canlas is an orthopedic surgeon who specializes in ACL reconstruction. He operates on about 300 ACLs a year. He has been involved in sports medicine in various capacities. In the Philippines he's has been head of the medical sections of the National Olympic Committee, National Sports Commission and National Sports Medicine Federation at various times . He works occasionally with the IOC Olympus movement as lecturer to various IOC sports medicine courses. And is also involved with IOC Oceania. For this work he received an Olympism Award from the IOC. Presently he is part of the FIBA (International Basketball Federation) Medical Commission, a position he has had for more than 20 years. His involvement in Philippine sports presently is promoting surfing as president of the national surfing association. Hoping to send local surfers to the Tokyo Olympics.